

About Linda Carman . . .

Linda Carman is an experienced teacher of the deaf, teacher of girls with Rett Syndrome, and a conference presenter focusing on assistive technology and developing communication strategies. Her degrees are in Mathematics, Psychology, Secondary Education and Deaf Education.

For several years Linda managed the Health and Human Services' contract providing disability accommodation for their employees nationwide. Through her company, Laetare Solutions, she has provided high and low tech products, trainings and support to families and professionals for the past 20 years.